

Activity Sheet 52

Applying PRA to rural transport

Purpose

The purpose of this activity is to reflect on the role of PRA in effective transport provision and for participants to explore potential applications of PRA techniques to their own work. Participants should draw on their own experience and knowledge.

Group Work

1. In your groups discuss the following:
 - A. What do PRA and participatory techniques add to the analysis of rural transport provision that is not addressed through quantitative surveys?
 - B. How might PRA techniques be utilised on transport projects on which participants have / might work?
2. Prepare your findings on flip chart.
3. Elect a person to present the findings.